

HOW DO YOU NAME A TEAM?

COMPILED BY MELINDA RUSSELL FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES AND ORIGINAL CONTENT

1. The Team Name Sets The Tone

Your team name sets your identity, so brainstorm and get a feel for the personalities of the group. Are you guys more laidback? Or perhaps more intense? What is the situation for your team name? Naming a race team is way different than naming a church youth group.

2. Find A Common Theme

Is there a common thread between all group members besides racing? All males? All females? All book lovers? All beginners? All veterans? If you find an object or theme that you all like, it may be easier to pick a team name.

3. Get Feedback

Once you have a couple of ideas for team names, you'll have to start narrowing it down. You can put it to a team vote to help decide. You can also ask outsiders of the group for their opinion.

Make a list of race terms and see what combinations you can put together for a name.

When it's your race team, there's sure to be the perfect name for your group. Here are some team name ideas to help inspire you.
